

Update on TechFusion x Skilio TechSkills Challenge 2025 – Delay in First Case Release

Dear Participants,

We would like to provide an important update regarding the release of the First Round Case for the TechFusion x Skilio TechSkills Challenge 2025 .

After recent communication with our sponsoring partners, there has been an unexpected shift in the grant approval timeline for the purpose of the competition. As the final confirmation of the grant approval has not yet been issued, this affects our ability to proceed with the competition according to the original schedule.

Commitment to Prize Pool Transparency & Participant Assurance

To ensure fairness, quality, and transparency for all contestants:

- The competition will NOT begin until the prize pool and grant are fully confirmed by our sponsoring partners. This is to ensure that contestants take part in the competition with the most updated knowledge of the prize pool.
- There may be a possibility of adjustments to the prize pool depending on the sponsor's final approval.
- Participation in the competition will only proceed once the prize pool is fully finalized and announced.

Updated Timeline

Due to the above circumstances, the timeline for the First Round Case release must be adjusted. While the new competition start date has not been fixed yet, participants can expect the competition to begin in early next year. We will share the updated timeline with all participants as soon as it is officially confirmed.

We sincerely apologize for the change in timeline and for any uncertainty caused by potential adjustments to the prize pool. Your enthusiasm and commitment to this competition means a great deal to us, and we appreciate your patience and understanding as we work to ensure the competition proceeds with fairness, transparency, and the full support of our partners.

Skilio takes full responsibility and discretion of the grant approval status and the competition timeline, and we are thankful to have Techfusion as our implementing partner for this competition.

Should there be any questions regarding the latest update, you may contact us at.

Skilio: tech@skilio.co

Techfusion: techfusionid@gmail.com

Thank you once again for your support. We remain committed to delivering a high-quality competition experience and will keep you updated on all developments.

Warm regards,

Skilio TechSkills Challenge 2025 Organizing Committee